

Call for Nominations for the SPE Insight Award

The Society for Photographic Education offers the SPE Insight Award to recognize achievements of significant distinction made by individuals to the photographic education field. Measured from when careers first begin, to days when standing ovations erupt spontaneously in lecture halls, SPE's Insight Award symbolizes the realization of a national or international career or the launching of future endeavors to new challenges, ideas, and horizons. Photographers (in the broadest sense of the word today), as well as scholars, curators, writers, and visionaries—be their achievements rapid fire or accumulated over time—are eligible for this mark of recognition and distinction.

The Insight Award is an honorary designation without monetary stipend granted annually to an SPE member. (Membership is defined by five years of cumulative membership.) The Insight Award recipient shall demonstrate excellence in two or more of the following ways:

- Innovative teaching
- Sustained mentoring of colleagues or students
- Broad contribution to technical, critical, pedagogical, or visual aspects of the field
- Breadth or depth of exhibition or publication
- Sustained presence in the field

The designation will be conferred with the calendar year (e.g. 2020 SPE Insight Award) in which it is awarded. The honor carries no end date, and anyone so honored will be included in all subsequent lists of Insight Awardees.

The award recipient will be selected by SPE's Board of Directors and announced at the annual conference. Conference attendance is not a requirement to receive the award, though the winner will be informed of the honor in advance.

Members of the organization's Board of Directors are not eligible to be nominated during their tenure on the Board, but may nominate or provide support letters. Members of SPE's Awards and Recognition Committee may not nominate nor provide support letters.

Insight Award Nomination Procedure

The selection process for the Insight Award is as follows:

A candidate must be nominated by a professional (non-student) member of the Society using the Insight Nomination Form (see right).

A candidate must be an SPE member for at least five cumulative years.

No member may nominate more than one member a year.

Nominations are accepted year-round, but July 1st at 5:00 PM EST is the cut-off for the following year's award.

The SPE office confirms eligibility of all nominators and nominees and determines that the nominations are accurate and complete. The SPE office will in turn prepare a ballot and distribute it with supporting nominations to Board members for an electronic vote.

Announcement of the Insight Award recipient will occur before the announcement of the Honored Educator Award at the annual conference.
