welcome back!

After three years apart, SPE is excited to reconvene for our annual conference! The 2023 gathering in Denver also kicks-off the 60th anniversary of the Society for Photographic Education and we want you to be a part of the celebration. We invite you to join us for Homecoming!

SPE is the largest association devoted to photography and related media as it applies to education, practice, and scholarship, with our membership primarily in the educational sector. Our vibrant annual national conference is the keystone of our programming and provides a great opportunity for you to meet face to face with representatives from the photo education field as approximately 1,000 attendees will gather in Denver.

The Exhibits Fair will be located in the North and South lobbies of the convention hall, providing vendors and sponsors the opportunity to engage with conference attendees throughout the length of the conference. Situated as the central hub of conference activities, the Exhibits Fair will welcome attendees throughout the course of the scheduled events that include plenary sessions, featured speakers, workshops, portfolio reviews, and social events.

SPE members and their contacts represent a large market share. Educators not only make individual purchases, but they also make substantial department purchases and influence the buying decisions of thousands of students each year.

New for 2023! SPE will continue to program virtual events throughout the calendar year and invite you to take advantage of increased visibility and SPE membership engagement outside of the national conference.

SPE will help you meet your primary business objectives:

- Make new contacts.
- Generate new sales leads.
- Build brand awareness for products and services.
- Announce, showcase, and demonstrate, your newest products.
- Demonstrate your support for the photographic community and commitment to education.

The many advantages of SPE's unique exhibits fair:

- The ONLY exhibits fair for the photographic education sector.
- Reach approximately 1,000 potential customers in one place, including photography educators and university students.
- Free and open to the public so an even greater audience can be reached!
- Choose from a compete menu of sponsorship options to help achieve your sales and marketing goals.
- Get your message out before, during, and after the conference – SPE offers postal and email lists of conference attendees and members.
- Meet face-to-face with current and existing customers, as well as create new relationships with prospects.
- Direct Sales opportunity – attendees look to place orders directly on the show floor.
- The exhibits floor will be centrally located in the Sheraton Downtown Denver's lobby, ensuring that all conference attendees will pass through the exhibits fair to attend general sessions.
- Make an impact with a small, manageable budget.

This is an exciting and effective way to reach out to the photographic education market. Don't miss your opportunity!

*On-site security will be provided overnight on Thursday, March 16 and Friday, March 17. In addition, drapery will be erected to conceal each exhibitor booth when the Exhibits Fair is closed. Secure storage will be provided overnight on Thursday, March 16 and Friday, March 17. Tabletop vendors must clear their merchandise when the Exhibits Fair is closed.
