Western Washington University and the Art Department's Photography Concentration are pleased to co-host "TRANSFIXED | TRANSMEDIA," the 2014 Society for Photographic Education's Northwest Regional Conference. This conference seeks to explore, embrace, and question the ever-expanding definitions of photography. "TRANSFIXED | TRANSMEDIA" will dissect the past, present, and future of photographic practices as they relate to the constant redefinition of the field by featuring speakers, students, practitioners, theorists, and historians who are actively pushing the boundaries of the medium.

The Western Gallery will host a members' SPENW scholarship auction exhibition in conjunction with the conference, and there will be several other related exhibitions and events.

WE ARE CURRENTLY SEEKING PROPOSALS for panels and image-maker presentations that embrace, question, and expand upon "transmedia" and photographic practice in all its forms. All accepted proposals will not pay a registration fee. This conference will provide a unique setting and an opportunity to engage with a dynamic international keynote speaker, Rodney Graham, and a provocative featured speaker, Jess T. Dugan. In addition, all participants will be able to exchange ideas through lively dialogue, portfolio reviews, presentations, demonstrations, exhibitions, and workshops. Please submit your proposal for the SPENW 2014 conference, TRANSFIXED | TRANSMEDIA (use attached form or find it online).
